REAL HOMES FOR CLOTHES.

TO THE LIVES OF CLOTHES. THE CONCEPT OF RELIEF.

From a faithful jumper to a sequin suit, from Levi's to Prada, from every day to once a year, clothes both serve and tolerate. Show off, and put up with. A life of limelight and darkness. Glamour and abuse. Maybe more extreme than the lives of those that wear them.

The designers at TAF Studios know clothes deserve more. Homes as elegant, stress-free, caring, inviting and integral as those of the humans who wear them. And as changeable as their demands and desires.

The result is a system that can warm the soul of a dress, delight the eyes of its owner, adapt to any space, and appeal to all tastes.

A HOME FOR CLOTHES, AS LIBERAL AS THEIR WEARERS.

How you keep clothes and wear them is an open choice. The Relief chest of drawers range offers clothes the same beautiful liberty. In five colours, three different heights and widths, flexible and engineered to lock together as one unit.

"IF I WERE A PULLOVER, I'D CHOOSE TO LIVE HERE."

Mattias Ståhlbom, co-founder TAF Studio.

SPACES FOR HIDING. AND FOR SHOWING OFF.

Like humans, clothes need to comfortably do both. It's why Relief's hook rails have as many colours and lengths as the chests of drawers. Any colour, any length, works any way.

"A STUNNING DRESS HAS THE RIGHT TO SAY SO."

Gabriella Lenke, co-founder TAF Studio.

SPACE AND SURPRISE.

Open a Relief drawer, and enter a space bigger than it seems. It's not an illusion. There's just room for more. Red socks, one-off hats, silk gloves, emergency socks, companions. And once within, there's the reassurance that every panel is veneered or colour-finished inside as well as as out. Welcome, everything.

Style is nothing without a world to be stylish in. That's why Relief is made in Swedish factories using 100% renewable energy. And why it arrives flat-packed, taking up a fifth of its assembled space to lower transport emissions. Something even the humblest sock would be proud to be part of.

Grey, NCS S7502-G, gloss 20. Hook rail: fine textured, aluminium. RAL 7043.
